

December 14, 2021

Hello team,

My name is Parker Ford and I'm contacting you about the position that was recently posted on .

I'm a highly determined and hard-working individual who is passionate about learning . Along with my college experience in the subject, I have devoted much of my free-time to further developing my skills in , which would be transferable and valuable to someone in position. I have a background in the user experience field designing and implementing interfaces with a focus on user enjoyment and efficiency. I feel as if this experience will bring unique value to any project as I believe all products should be designed with the user in mind. It's important to me to work for a company that cares so much about . Your mission to is very exciting and is something that is deeply important to me.

I would love to join your team as a ! My phone number is 425-478-8221 and my email is parker.g.ford@gmail.com if you would like to contact me for an interview. Thank you for your time and consideration!

-Parker Ford